

Sarah Cornally

LEADING PEOPLE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
20 October 2006

Contact: Jenny Muir, Imago Group
(02) 9331-7222, 0415 401 200
jenny@imagogroup.com.au

Sarah Cornally Takes Nevin Award National Speakers Association of Australia Honours Leadership Advisor

SYDNEY – Professional speaker and leadership advisor Sarah Cornally took home the prestigious Nevin Award at the National Speakers Association of Australia's (NSAA) 16th annual convention on Saturday.

Established in 1991, the Nevin Award is the association's most cherished honour. It celebrates the spirit of John Nevin, founding President of NSAA, whose commitment to serving the association whilst developing and advancing the speaking profession and the community provided a role model to all.

The Award is presented annually to a speaker whose outstanding contribution to the industry reflects selfless acts of sharing, guiding, supporting and inspiring others.

Cornally, who runs the professional speaking and consulting business Leading People, said, "My commitment to the expression of human greatness is affirmed by receiving this tremendous award. It is a mark of the success and generosity of my peers to have been recognized by them in such a meaningful way. I am humbled in their company."

Nevin Award - Past Winners

1991 - Ron Tacchi CSP	1999 - David Julian Price CSP
1992 - Doug Malouf CSP	2000 - Robyn Henderson CSP
1993 - Winston Marsh CSP	2001 - Keith Abraham CSP
1994 - Walter Dickman CSP	2002 - Colin Bockman CSP
1995 - Lisa McInnes-Smith CSP/CPAE	2003 - Matt Church CSP
1996 - Catherine Palin Brinkworth CSP	2004 - Colin Pearce CSP
1997 - David Griggs APS	2005 – Martin Grunstien CSP
1998 - Max Hitchins APS

Attention Editors: Please contact Jenny for high resolution headshots of Sarah, convention photographs and/or to arrange interviews.

- ends -